

How to Join HCP-Users or HCP-Announce Google Groups (with or without a Gmail Account)

Anyone interested may join the public HCP-Users (discussion forum for all things HCP) or HCP-Announce (no-reply announcement list) Google groups hosted at:

HCP-Users: <https://groups.google.com/a/humanconnectome.org/d/forum/hcp-users>

HCP-Announce: <https://groups.google.com/a/humanconnectome.org/d/forum/hcp-announce>

You may have been signed up for one or both of these Google groups by filling out the form on <https://www.humanconnectome.org/contact-us> long ago or more recently. If you did, we migrated your account from Mailman (our old listserv) and you will still receive messages from both lists and can still post to HCP-Users, depending on which list(s) you are subscribed to.

However, if you did not subscribe to the list(s) with a Gmail account, you will need to set up a Google account for the email you subscribed to the list with (often your institutional email rather than a Gmail account) for you to be able to see HCP-Users or HCP-Announce listed as "My Groups" in the Google Groups UI or change your list settings (e.g. digest vs. messages as they are sent).

Below are steps to create a Google account with a non-Gmail email address to enable these account settings. In addition, you can find the steps for managing subscriptions.

If you have questions, please feel free to email Jenn Elam at elam@wustl.edu

Creating an account with a non-Gmail email address

Go to: hcp-users home or hcp-announce home

Click 'Sign In'

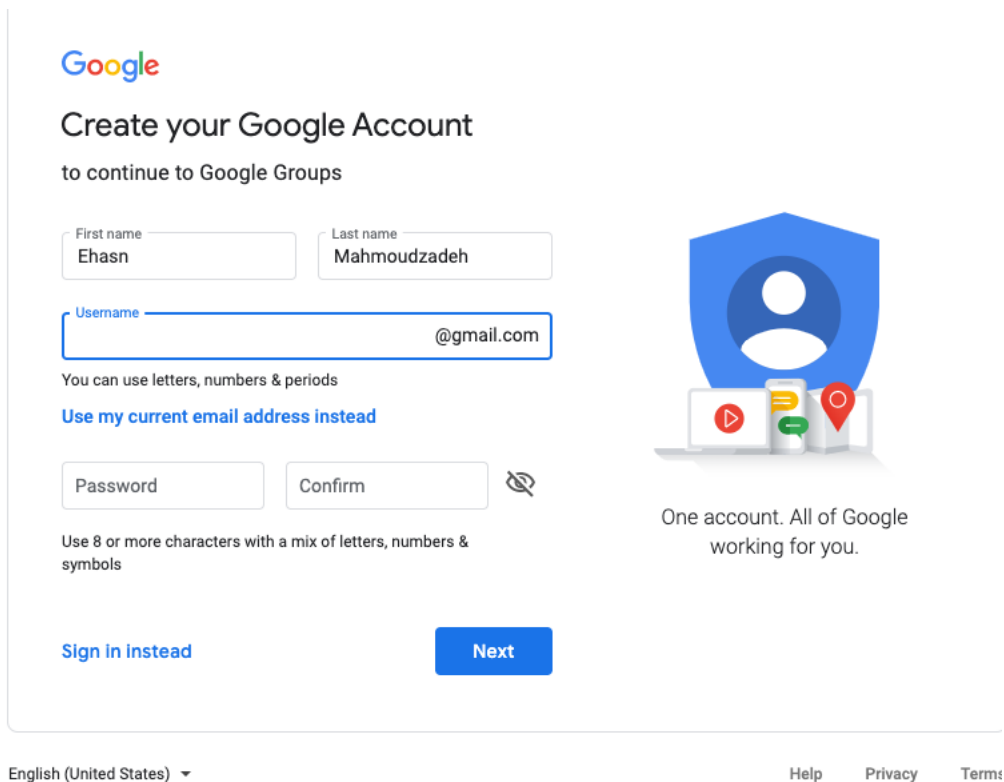

The screenshot shows the Google Groups interface for the 'HCP-Users' group. At the top, there is a search bar with the text 'Search for messages' and a magnifying glass icon. To the right of the search bar is a 'Sign in' button. Below the search bar are two buttons: 'NEW TOPIC' (in red) and a refresh icon. To the right of these are two dropdown menus, one with a person icon and one with a gear icon. The main content area shows the group name 'HCP-Users' and 'Shared publicly'. Below that, it says '60 of many topics' and 'About'. The main text of the group page reads: 'Welcome to the HCP-Users Google group, which is the primary forum for discussions of topics relevant to the Human Connectome Project (HCP) and Connectome Coordination Facility (CCF). This includes threads relevant to the HCP-Young Adult (HCP-YA) original dataset of 1200 healthy adults ages 22-35, all processing and analysis methods/pipelines developed by HCP, the HCP Course, Connectome Workbench visualization and analysis software (wb_view and wb_command), and the Brain Analysis Library of Spatial maps and Atlases (BALSA) database. Also, any discussion of released and soon to be released datasets from the Lifespan HCP projects (HCP-Development, ages 5-21, and HCP-Aging, ages 35-100+) and Connectomes Related to Human Disease projects (CHRD, see humanconnectome.org) and associated documentation, pipelines, etc.' Below this text is a list of topics, each with a person icon, the topic title, the author, the number of posts and views, and the date. The topics listed are: 'Problem Adding Subcortical Labels to Generate CIFTI Label File' by Timothy Hendrickson (2 posts, 2 views, Nov 19), 'averaged rfMRI per group of age' by Marta Moreno (1 post, 2 views, Nov 16), '654' by JaeEun Shin (1 post, 1 view, Nov 12), 'relational processing responses' by Moataz Assem (8 posts, 6 views, Nov 11), and 'Connectome Workbench 1.4.0 Released!' by Jenn Elam (3 posts, 6 views, Nov 11).

Click 'Create account' and select 'For myself'

If you prefer to receive your HCP-Users or HCP-Announce messages at a non-Gmail email address:

Click 'Use my current email address instead'

Joining a group

Once you have a Google account attached to your desired email address for receiving messages and have signed in, you can join each group with that email address/Google account.

Go to: hcp-users home or hcp-announce home

Click on the 'Join group' button.

The screenshot shows a Google Groups interface for the 'HCP-Users' group. At the top, there are navigation buttons: 'NEW TOPIC' (red), a refresh icon, 'Mark all as read', and 'Filters'. The left sidebar contains navigation options: 'My groups', 'Home', 'My discussions', 'Starred', 'Favorites', and 'Recently viewed'. A yellow callout box under 'Favorites' says 'Click on a group's star icon to add it to your favorites'. The main content area shows the group name 'HCP-Users' (shared publicly), '60 of 92 topics (92 unread)', and a 'Join group' button. Below this is a welcome message: 'Welcome to the HCP-Users Google group, which is the primary forum for discussions Coordination Facility (CCF). This includes threads relevant to the HCP-Young Adult (HCP-YA) original dataset of 1 developed by HCP, the HCP Course, Connectome Workbench visualization and anal; Spatial maps and Atlases (BALSA) database. Also, any discussion of released and soon to be released datasets from the Lifespar 100+) and Connectomes Related to Human Disease projects (CHRD, see humancon'. A list of topics is shown below, with the first one highlighted in green: 'Problem Adding Subcortical Labels to Generate CIFTI Label File (2)' by Timothy Hendrickson, 2 posts, 2 views, dated Nov 19. The second topic is 'averaged rfMRI per group of age (1)' by Marta Moreno, 1 post, 2 views, dated Nov 16.
